

NOLIN STRAW VOTE WILSON 35; HUGHES 9

BALLOT IS TAKEN AT SUCCESSFUL HALLOWEEN ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN BY SCHOOL.

Fire Destroys Combine of John C. Williams Wednesday—Other News and Social Notes.

(East Oregonian Special)

NOLIN, Nov. 3.—Our school gave a Halloween entertainment and basket social last Tuesday night. The proceeds which amounted to $45.20 were used to pay for a large book case.

During the evening a straw vote was taken for the presidential candidates which resulted as follows: Wilson, 35; Hughes, 9, and Benson, 4.

Messrs. Earl Dupuis, Chester Dupuis, Freeman Hendricks and Misses Jaunita Dupuis, Stella Steele and Velma Wheeler attended a masquerade at Echo Tuesday night.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Aivord who came here from Garabaldi, Ore., before harvest, have moved to Pendleton for the winter.

John C. Williams lost his combine Wednesday night about 1 o'clock by fire. The origin of the fire is unknown. He had 1900 sacks to thresh from the stacks for Karl Lees. The machine was a Hewlett and had only been run this season. Mr. Williams is unfortunate with combine harvesters. He had one burn on the morning of February 27th of this year and lost two others prior to it.

The loss to Mr. Lee's wheat is said to have been light except that the sacks were burned until considerable reworking will be required.

Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Bixby, our teachers, are attending the teachers' institute in Pendleton this week.

Joe P. Fisher is the proud owner of a brand new Maxwell car.

A. J. Harp was a Pendleton visitor Wednesday.

O. F. Steele and John Bartley were motor passengers to the county seat Tuesday.

Wm. Slusher came down from Pendleton Wednesday morning.

Worms Sap Your Child's Strength

Is your child pale and fretful? Does he cry out in sleep or grind his teeth? These symptoms may mean worms and you should obtain relief at once. Kickapoo Worm Killer is a pleasant remedy that kills the worms and by its mildly laxative quality expels it from the system. Worms sap the vitality and make your child more susceptible to other ailments. Your druggist sells Kickapoo Worm Killer. 25c a box.—Adv.

VOCATIONAL SCHOOL FOR INDIANS PLANNED, MONT.

HELENA, Mont., Nov. 3.—Caro Sells, United States commissioner of Indian affairs, who is in Helena, said today he will recommend the establishment of a great Indian vocational school—a second Carlisle—at Fort William Henry Harrison, the local military post. Mr. Sells says present schools are unable to handle Indian enrollment, which is increasing rapidly, and that a new and larger school is imperative. He hopes to secure action on the matter in congress this winter.

C. P. STRAIN County Assessor

Candidate for Re-election

The older child was Assessor Strain at age coming nine.

A few weeks later the family broke up.

The present Assessor bundled his entire possessions into a red cotton handkerchief and set out alone to make a career.

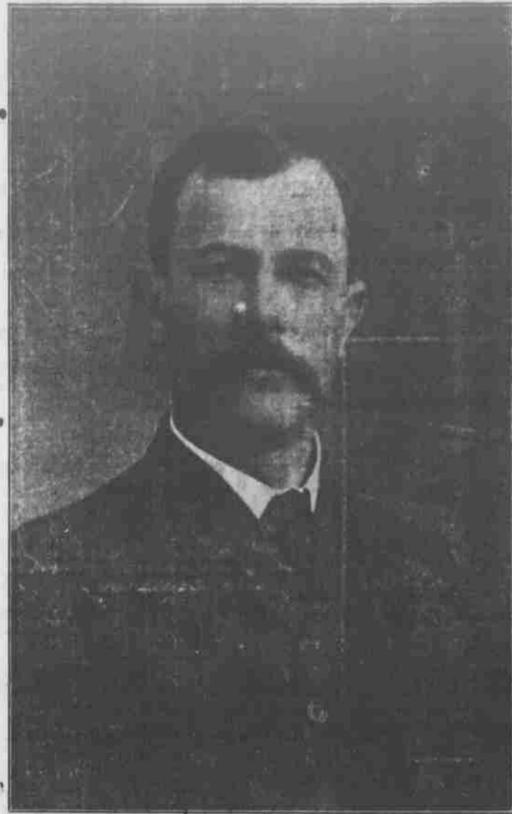

He attended school forty-five months in all. First attracted attention in 1896 as a public speaker in Western Oregon as a democrat. Received a life diploma as a teacher in 1897. Has been a student of practical government many years.

Assessor Strain at age 34.

When chosen as the people's agent to equalize assessments whereby defiant public utility corporations and other affluent tax dodgers should be brought terms.

Energy, economy and fair play have marked Mr. Strain's record as assessor.

Assessor Strain at age 40.

Foes had derided and friends doubted the probability of success. But now the disputed taxes had been paid and railroad companies subjected to efficient regulation through a regulative commission. The recent road bond fight is evidence that the people of Umatilla county are still using Assessor Strain as a helper in their cause.

Pendleton Normal School Proven Necessity

(Copied from Portland Oregonian.)

MONMOUTH, Ore., June 26.—The Oregon Normal school opened this week. . . students enrolled 783, largest on record for state Normal in Oregon. . . how to care for large student body a problem. . . 500 being crowded into auditorium with seating capacity of 550. Galleries filled with extra chairs in aisles. More than 150 students seated on platform. New boarding houses completed, additions to rooming houses built and tents used. One hundred girls sleep on upper floor of school.

The official school report gives 150 grade pupils in Monmouth, for teacher practice.

Read what those you have elected to handle the affairs of your state and who are thoroughly informed regarding school conditions in Oregon have to say concerning measure 308 on the ballot at the coming election:

By James Withycombe, Governor of Oregon: "Oregon is unquestionably in need of more normal school work and Pendleton is the logical place for a school of this class in Eastern Oregon."

By J. A. Churchill, State Superintendent of Public Instruction: "I trust that the voters of the State will assist in raising the standard of our schools by establishing a State Normal school at Pendleton."

By P. L. Campbell, President of the University of Oregon: "At least one additional Normal school is urgently needed in Oregon."

By W. J. Kerr, President of the Oregon Agricultural College: "Since the people of Pendleton are initiating a measure for the establishment of a Normal school at that place, it will give me pleasure to support this measure."

By J. H. Ackerman, President Oregon Normal School, at Monmouth: "A careful analysis of the situation will convince any one that Oregon needs a Normal school in Eastern Oregon and Pendleton fills all the government requirements."

By the County School Superintendents of Oregon: "Resolved, that it is the sense of the County School Superintendents of the State of Oregon, in convention assembled, that the best interests of the schools of the State demand increased facilities for the training of teachers, and that we, therefore, endorse the initiative measure to establish a Normal school at Pendleton."

By Mrs. Charles H. Castner, President of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs: "I most heartily endorse the location of said Normal school at Pendleton."

Prof. Robert C. French, Former President of the Normal School Located at Weston: "An immediate establishment of such a school at some central point such as Pendleton would prove a great asset to the state of Oregon."

B. F. Mulkey, Ex-President Southern Oregon Normal School: "I shall support the location of an Eastern Oregon Normal School at Pendleton."

State Board of Regents of Oregon Normal School declares that "the necessity for additional Normal school facilities in Oregon is apparent."

Portland Chamber of Commerce endorses measure 308 and says Pendleton most logical location for Normal school in Eastern Oregon.

TAKE "CASCARETS" IF HEADACHY, BILIOUS AND CONSTIPATED

BEST FOR LIVER AND BOWELS,
BAD BREATH, BAD COLDS,
SOFT STOMACH.

Get a 10-cent box.

Sick headache, biliousness, coated tongue, head and nose clogged up with a cold—always trace this to torpid liver, delayed, fermenting food in the bowels or sour, gassy stomach.

Poisonous matter clogged in the intestines, instead of being cast out of the system is re-absorbed into the blood. When this poison reaches the delicate brain tissue it causes congestion and that dull, throbbing, sickening headache.

Cascarets immediately cleanse the stomach, remove the sour, undigested food and foul gases, take the excess bile from the liver and carry out all the constipated waste matter and poisons in the bowels.

A Cascaret tonight will surely straighten you out by morning. They work while you sleep—a 10-cent box from your druggist means your head clear, stomach sweet and your liver and bowels regular for months.

AVIATOR MAKES RECORD IN CHICAGO, N. Y. FLIGHT

ERIE, Nov. 2.—Victor Carlstrom, a New York Times aviator, in attempting a non-stop flight from Chicago to New York carrying mail landed here at noon because of engine trouble. He averaged a hundred and nine miles an hour from Chicago. He established a new American non-stop record of four hundred fifty miles. He expects to resume the trip.

MOTOR FREIGHT HITS SCHOOL HACK; MANY HURT

MUNCIE, Ind., Nov. 2.—A motor freight car hit a school hack and three school girls were probably fatally hurt. Seventeen were injured. Chauffeur Peter Knott was badly mangled.

PORTLAND, Nov. 2.—Katherine Doyle, aged ten, missing since Monday, was found sleeping under the Synagogue steps. She feared a scolding at home and wandered the streets. She begged pie and apples but was half starved and exhausted.

LACK OF CARS IS CAUSING FUEL SHORTAGE

WASHINGTON, Nov. 1.—Prospects for a nation-wide fuel shortage through the car famine are strengthened by reports indicating under half the nation's crops are moved to distributing centers. November is the heaviest crop month of the year. Middle western and eastern industrial cities report some factories actually forced to close on account of a fuel shortage. New York is sending urgent appeals for fuel.

STOP THE FIRST COLD.

A cold does not get well of itself. The process of wearing out a cold wears you out, and your cough becomes serious if neglected. Hacking coughs drain the energy and sap the vitality. For 47 years the happy combination of soothing antiseptic balsams in Dr. King's New Discovery has healed coughs and relieved congestion. Young and old can testify to the effectiveness of Dr. King's New Discovery for coughs and colds. Buy a bottle today at your druggist, 50c.—Adv.

ROOSEVELT SPEAKS TO BIG CROWD AT CLEVELAND

CLEVELAND, Nov. 2.—Roosevelt addressed a mass meeting here, and speaks at Cleveland tonight. He told a big crowd: "Wilson says the questions involving human lives should not enter politics. Very true. There who has he done it?"

He declared Wilson's attitude concerning citizens to resort to political assassination a cheap government. He exhorted true Americans and announced the foreigners who come to America seeking free government benefits and fail to give full allegiance Roosevelt received an ovation and paraded the streets.

Citizen soldiers of the republic are not get a chance to do much fighting for the country, but they are back home in time to vote for it.

DON'T CHANGE DRIVERS IN AN HOUR OF PERIL

"Have you ever noticed how easy it is for some men to sit on the rear seat and criticize the chauffeur?" asks Charles A. Towne of New York, in a speech which he is delivering in course of a transcontinental speaking tour in behalf of President Wilson.

"What a delightful irresponsibility. The powerful but delicate mechanism trembles with impatience. Slowly it creeps, like a nervous thing of life, out and in among the countless perils of the city streets. Automobiles to the right. Automobiles to the left. Automobiles in front. Automobiles behind. Horses, trucks, milk-wagons, moving vans coming and going, in a welter of dangerous confusion. Horns sounding, buzzers screeching, sirens splitting the thick air with blood-curdling shrieks. Pedestrians flitting here and there emitting cries of inarticulate fear. Traffic policemen wigwagging complicated instructions. Elevated trains roaring overhead. The earthquake of the subway underneath.

"In front sits the chauffeur, every muscle taut, face set in rigid lines, eyes keen for every detail of the panorama. His hands are on the steering wheel, one ready to sound the horn, the other in easy reach of the emergency brake, one foot is on the clutch, the other on foot-brake and prepared to touch the accelerator if the car should stall. Progress is fitful, swerving to right, to left, stopping, starting, slowing, darting into openings of momentary promise. A false move, an instant's hesitation, a single act of precipitation on the part of the chauffeur, may spell ruin to the machine and injury or death to the passengers.

"But the smart Alec on the back seat is an incorrigible meddler. He knows it all. Nobody can drive to suit him. Even if success results from another's course, his self-confidence is not disturbed. 'Sound yer horn!' he wells. 'Throw her into second, you fool. Turn to the left.' 'Stop her.' 'What's yer clutch for?' 'Where's yer emergency brake?' And a deal more of unsought advice that can't possibly affect the car and may easily distract the chauffeur and confuse the crowd.

"Now, suppose the journey to result disastrously, the machine to be wrecked, the passengers maimed or killed. Who can say how much the ill-timed interference of the wise guy on the back seat had to do with it, misleading the rival vehicles, disturbing his own driver? And if, in spite of all the critic's advice, the chauffeur wins to safety, if the car sustains no injury and no passenger is hurt, what then can the marplot say? Will the other passengers have a moment's patience with his claim that equal safety would have followed the rejected counsel! Will they not consider it worse than idle speculation? Will they not rather regard the back seat critic as one who periled action with dark counsel and was willing to risk ruin to all in order to have his way? Will they not rebuke the fault-finder and lavish gratitude upon the brave self-reliant, capable and successful driver!

"Fellow-citizens, the car of America is beset with innumerable and unprecedented perils. The highway of the world is crowded with a mad rush of vehicles bearing the rival destinies of nations and driving ruthlessly over, around or through all intervening obstacles. Our chauffeur, firm of purpose, calm, capable and courageous, patient and tireless, has guided us amid the press and turmoil thus far without either damaging the car, injuring the passengers or relinquishing the right of way. In the name of common sense, in the name of the welfare of our country, in the name of the hard-won principles of international law, what answer shall prudent, just, patriotic American citizens make to the cowardly, foolish and dangerous proposition that, in the very middle of our uncompleted journey, while the difficulties of our course are at their height, we shall pull our chauffeur from his seat, take his foot from the brake and his hand from the wheel, to turn over the control of our destiny to the inexperienced and carping passenger in the rear!

"I think I know what their answer will be. They will say, in a voice that can be heard by every other driver on the international highway and in every governmental garage throughout the world: 'Woodrow, hold your place; Charlie, sit down in the back seat and be quiet!'"

HUGHES FOE TO FARMERS.

Public records show the kind of a "friend" that Charles E. Hughes, Republican candidate for the Presidency, is to the farmers. While Governor of New York, he vetoed the following measures:

- For Farmers' Institute work, $6,000.
- For a specialist to fight insect pests, $2,500.
- For dissemination of information concerning cheap farms to be had in New York State, $8,000.
- For improving New York State College of Agriculture, $5,000.
- For enlargement of State Veterinary College, $10,000.
- For maintaining a department of veterinary science in the State University, $5,000.
- For investigation and extermination of contagious diseases of plants, $11,000.

CONTRAST THIS RECORD WITH PRESIDENT WILSON'S RURAL CREDIT ACT, THE GOOD ROADS BILL AND THE VOCATIONAL TRAINING MEASURE FOR WOMEN OF THE FARM.

WILSON WON ROOT'S PRAISE

"Thank heaven we have a President in whose lofty character, in whose sincerity of purpose, in whose genuine desire to do what is right, wise, patriotic, and what is best for the country and humanity, we can all trust absolutely. I trust him. He is my President and I would stand behind him in his leadership." — From a speech by Ellihu Root delivered before the American Society of International Law, Washington, April 26, 1914.

In a Senate in which were Borah of Idaho, Cummins of Iowa, Bristow of Kansas, Clapp of Minnesota, La Follette of Wisconsin and Norris of Nebraska, all strongly progressive, but all Republicans, it was the Old Guard, Aldrich and Penrose, Smoot and Gallinger, that dictated all the important legislation that got through that body. And just so it would be in any other Republican Senate. The Old Guard put through the Aldrich-Payne tariff and would drive through another of the same character.

Last year's exports (from "Fools Paradise") amounted to $150,000,000 in automobiles alone.

To the Voters of Seward County

Dear Friends:-

I am a candidate on the Democratic Ticket for office of Probate Judge of this county. I feel that I am competent to handle the affairs of the office and I would like to be elected. I have never before asked any political favors.

I planned to make a personal canvas of the county but have been in bed for the past eight weeks with typhoid fever, and will not likely be out of the house before election.

This notice is to explain why I have not been to see you. I trust you will vote for me on election day.

Yours truly,

Kate Wright

LUMBER IS GOING UP

U. S. may ship entire towns. Federal Experts and Lumbermen expect big European orders. When Europe stops fighting and starts to rebuild towns for her people to live in, it expects the United States to go to her aid.

The initial step by which the United States Government for the first time takes active part with American Industry to go out and get trade, to become a traveling salesman and procure orders, was taken in Chicago a few days ago when Dr. E. E. Pratt of Washington, chief of the Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Commerce met representatives of the Federal Trade Commission and 20 lumber companies to outline a campaign for selling American Lumber to Europe. A committee was chosen which will go to Europe about November 1st to investigate conditions further and begin the campaign with foreign buyers. R. H. Dowman of New Orleans, President of the National Lumber Mfg. Assn. was chosen as the head of the committee.

Decide to buy this year and you will save the difference between low prices and abnormal demand prices. The object of this notice is to inform you of this coming change of price to give you an opportunity to avoid it, to give you a chance to buy your home before higher prices must be paid. ACT AT ONCE.

You can save from $200 to $500 if you expect to buy within two years. Don't fail to get in action—quick. Lumber prices are advancing. Labor prices are going up. Real estate valuations are lower by twenty per cent than they will be next year. Hancock Houses are guaranteed to satisfy you or your money refunded.

CONSISTENCY, THOU ART A JUNE BUG!

The Kansas City Star, which likes to boast of its own independence and fairness whenever the same are called into question, has developed into the most inconsistent liar of any during the present campaign. In its afternoon edition of October 27 it published the following account of Roosevelt's speech at Toledo, Ohio: "The President of the United States must not wear a moral pigtail," said Col. Theodore Roosevelt in a rear car platform speech here this afternoon. "Mexico," he said, "has placed Americans in the same class with the Chinese. Mexico has killed one German, one Englishman, no Frenchmen, no Japanese, five hundred Americans and three hundred Chinese. The attitude of the national administration is more apt to produce war with Mexico than to keep us out of war."

A subscriber at Breckenridge, Missouri, wrote to the information department of its morning edition for the facts concerning the number of Americans killed in Mexico during the last six years, and here is the answer rendered in its issue of October 28:

"Secretary Lansing in his report, 'Affairs in Mexico,' states that from 1910 to 1915 there were 159 Americans killed by Mexicans of which number thirty-six were killed on American soil. It is estimated that eighty-seven Americans have been killed from January 1 to June 22, 1916. (b) American soldiers killed in action during the Spanish-American war, 499; died of wounds, 202; died of disease, 5,509; died from other causes, 412; total 6,622."

T. R.'s main battle cry during this campaign has been that more Americans have been killed in Mexico during the last six years than were killed in the entire Spanish-American war, and the Star has reported each tirade gleefully and in large black type. The answer given in the information department was taken from official reports and can be verified by the records at Washington. Why does the Star continue to contradict itself merely to make campaign thunder for the party to which its founder did not belong? Were Col. Nelson still alive it is very certain that the Star, if it had to lie, would at least be consistent about it.

It's a band-wagon—get aboard. "Panic in Republican headquarters," say the headlines. Well, it's been nothing but a bone-head quarters anyway.

Whatever else may said of Senators Penrose, Gallinger and Smoot, the triumvirate dominating the Republican party, they are not pussy-footers. They talk boldly out the faith is in them. They are for protection which knows no downward revision. They have no sympathy with progressiveness and openly avow it. They are the creatures of privilege and its devoted servants. They long for the old times when Republicanism was uncompromising in its audacity and lorded the country with a high hand. They are unrepentant and never temporize. Hughes is their candidate and they are the bone, sinew and financial life-blood of his campaign.
