

cept one of their meetings, the latter being at Ashland, Ohio, when Schaefer won, while Sutton scored only 389 points. Demarest is in third place with five victories and one defeat; Cutler, against whom he played, having scored 400 while he was accumulating 309 in a game at Jackson, Mich.

Cline and Yamada, who played together, have each three victories and three defeats as their score. In the game between the latter pair at Troy, which was limited to 300 points, Cline ran out in five innings with an average of 60, Yamada scoring only 26. In the three games won by Yamada, Cline scored 165, 353, and 353, respectively, while in the two full games won by Cline Yamada scored 397 and 237.

Cline has the highest grand average in the series so far—18. Morningstar and Sutton have grand averages of 10 each, and Demarest 15. Cutler and Cochran are at 11 in the grand average and Schaefer at 10, as he scored only 154, 126, and 181 in his first three games. Since then he has been going better and has apparently found his stroke.

4,000 GREET COLONEL.

He Explains His Trust Views to Harvester Employes.

Special to The New York Times.

AUBURN, Oct. 15.—Col. Roosevelt, tired out by a day's campaigning in Oswego, Fulton, Wayne, and Cayuga Counties, gave up a reception planned for him after tonight's meeting and went to bed. The local auditorium, which seats nearly 4,000 persons, was crowded tonight, and many persons were turned away. The only departure Col. Roosevelt made from previous speeches was a defense of the Harvester Trust. In the audience were many employes of the local branch of the trust. Col. Roosevelt said that notwithstanding only one Director of the International Harvester Corporation voted for him he believed they all should have supported him cordially, because his programme called for supervision and control by the Government instead of disintegration as advocated by the Democrats.

"Business men for the most part have been against us," the Colonel said, "but I wish they would study our programme and remember that when we war on big business crooks we war for the honest business man. The newspapers preach that I am an incendiary. I wish they, too, would read what I say."

In attacking Barnes and Murphy he appealed to Hennessy Democrats, Hinman Republicans, independents, and straight Progressives to unite to destroy bi-partisan government in this State. Without mentioning William Sulzer he explained his support of Mr. Davenport by saying: "My first requirement was character. If there is anything crooked in a man's past, his enemies will find the vulnerable spot."

DOG INTERRUPTED SERVICE.

Clergyman Has Owner of Animal Summoned to Court.

Alleging that the howls and barks of her dog interrupted his preaching at services, the Rev. Abraham Braverman of 1,733 President Street, Brooklyn, caused Mrs. Dolly B. Higgins of 296 Howard Avenue to be summoned yesterday to the New Jersey Avenue Court, East New York. The case came up before Magistrate McGuife.

"Your Honor, I am forced to bring this young woman here," said the clergyman, "in an effort to bring the outrageous actions of her pet poodle to an end. Her home and the temple of my congregation adjoin. The dog is generally loose in the yard, and when I speak, when conducting the religious services in our edifice, the dog frequently sets up a howling and barking that makes it next to impossible for me to proceed."

Mrs. Higgins then agreed to keep the dog imprisoned in the cellar during services times. This was satisfactory to the Rev. Mr. Braverman, and the case was closed.

CUE CHAMPIONS' LEAGUE.

Morningstar and Sutton in Lead with Demarest Close Behind.

At the close of the first week's games in the Champion Billiard Players' League, Morningstar and Sutton are in the lead with six games won and one lost by each player. Morningstar had the schoolboy, Cochran, as his opponent, the latter winning the first game played in Chicago by 400 to 361. Sutton defeated young "Jake" Schaefer in their series of games in all ex-
